

ilm Level 7 Certificate in Leadership & Management

The new ilm Level 7 Award in Leadership and Management is a nationally recognised qualification, launched in April 2014. It has been specially designed to give practising and aspiring senior managers the skills they need to be a confident and effective leader and understand the principles and practice of senior level leadership in constantly changing environments.

It blends face to face workshops with participation in a learning community. Delegates will have the opportunity to develop their understanding of leadership theory and practice, benefit from increased personal awareness and reflection and explore the principles and practice of leading change effectively. Delegates will also develop critical and relevant leadership capability via the qualification assessment; which is an enquiry based research project.

Assessment

Delegates are required to complete one formal assessment, an enquiry based research project.

An enquiry based project is a method of enquiry based learning; this is a delegate centred approach to learning which develops a number of skills including :

' self-reliance, independence and ability to identify, investigate and solve problems'

(source: University of Reading website April 2014)

The process involves:

- The delegate creating questions of their own (these will be derived from a real strategic level issue /problem or opportunity within their place of work)
- Obtaining supporting evidence to answer the question(s)
- Explaining the evidence collected
- Connecting the explanation to the knowledge obtained from the investigative process
- Creating an argument and justification for the explanation

The ilm recognises that leaders of organisations need to be able to solve complex issues, using a variety of sources of information (these sources often being other people), come up with the most effective solution and then gain buy in from a variety of stakeholders.

This enquiry based project therefore allows delegates to develop this area of essential leadership capability and also add value to their organisation.

The subject of the enquiry is the choice of the delegate, for those not currently within an organisation they can use themselves as the subject for inquiry.

The materials submitted for assessment may include a variety of media including for example word documents, spreadsheets, PowerPoint documents, reports and recordings of professional discussions .

We will guide delegates to ensure there is sufficient scope to meet the assessment criteria as required by the ilm.

ILM Membership

All registered candidates automatically become full members of the ilm for the duration of the programme. Designed to help candidates get the most from their course and advance their management career, membership gives access to a wide range of specialist support and development materials and serves. Successful completion of a Level 7 qualification provides eligibility for a minimum grade of Associate Membership (AMInstLM) of the Institute of Leadership and Management.
