

Dynamic Leadership

"The successful leader is an individual who understands himself/herself, the organisation, the environment in which they operate and the people that they are privileged to lead."

Overview

Managers can become effective leaders through this one day workshop, 'Dynamic Leadership'. Managing can be so much more than directing the traffic of people, events, and tasks – it can involve inspiring a direction that generates greater 'buy in' from staff while developing/mentoring others into higher management roles. This workshop challenges you to confront the boundaries, blind spots and limitations of your current leadership style. You will explore, deepen and extend your leadership edge.

Workshop Objectives

- Identify the behaviours associated with the four leadership styles of situational leadership.
- Reflect upon your personal style of leadership.
- Explore Distributed and Adaptive Leadership Principles.
- Use a less directive style of leadership to harness collective intelligence and solve wicked problems.

Duration

This workshop is delivered through an interactive full day workshop involving self assessments, group discussion and facilitated team working exercises. You will explore Leadership Models and will be required to complete the an LPT Personal Leadership Profile 3 assessment so you can understand how the three functions impact upon your current role and identify specific things you can do to better balance your leadership profile.

Investment

Total investment for this workshop is £190 per person. Alternatively, this workshop can be delivered internally to your organisation for a total investment of £1400, irrespective of how many delegates from your organisation attend.
